Execulink announces 2014 Scholarship winners

Woodstock, ON – August 28, 2014 – Execulink Telecom announced the winners of their 2014 Scholarship program today, continuing their focus on giving back to the communities they serve.

“Starting college and university can be a challenging time for students and parents. Our goal with the scholarship program is to take some of that stress away,” says CEO Ian Stevens, “It gives us great pleasure knowing that we can help with their education.”

Criteria for the selection process included academic achievements in mathematics and sciences as well as volunteer contributions to community based organizations. These scholarships are available to students graduating from high school and advancing into post-secondary education.

In addition to offering this annual scholarship program, Execulink has a long history of supporting local charities, non-profit organizations, and minor sports teams in the territories they offer services in.

Execulink's scholarship program will start accepting applications again in January 2015. Interested applicants can find more information and apply at www.execulink.ca/community-involvement/scholarship-program

About Execulink

In operation since 1904, Execulink Telecom has evolved from a small independent local telephone company into one of the leading telecommunications providers in Ontario. Through innovation and forward-thinking, we cultivated our local telephony offerings to provide a full-scale suite of telecommunications services including data, internet, cable television, mobility and advanced voice features. These services are now available to all levels of industry, encompassing 50,000 business, enterprise, government, and residential customers.
