(Woodstock, ON) May XX, 2021 – Execulink Telecom, the telecommunications provider headquartered in Woodstock, has launched four new Fixed Wireless Internet plans to service rural residents in Southwestern Ontario. To give customers the awesome experience they deserve, all plans include unlimited usage, which will support working and learning from home.

“The customer experience is a top priority for Execulink,” says Andrea Atkinson, Vice President Customer Experience. “We believe in providing our customers with the awesome experience they deserve and, guided by our Vision, Mission, and Values, continue to seek out ways to do so. It is important for us that residents, no matter where they live, have access to a dependable Internet service that can keep them connected to what matters most. Our new Fixed Wireless plans are able to provide that.”

Execulink’s new Fixed Wireless Internet plans offer new pricing options, with faster download speed options up to 25 Mbps. The local telecom uses its Wireless network and infrastructure to deliver broadband to the home, where select towers are equipped to support the increased usage and speed, providing Internet to residents in rural and remote communities that are harder to reach.

For even more peace of mind, Execulink offers the added benefits of no contracts, no installation or activation fees, 24/7 support, and access to MyExeculink – the private, secure portal where customers can update, manage and check in with all their Execulink services and account information.

“Now, more than ever, access to a reliable Internet connection is a necessity for Ontario families, especially in rural communities,” says Ian Stevens, President and CEO of Execulink Telecom. “We believe all of our customers deserve an awesome experience. We are happy to be able to provide better Internet options which will help connect more people in remote and rural areas with Fixed Wireless home Internet service to help keep them connected to the people and things that matter most.”
